Virtual Conference

The 27th Annual Conference of ISDRS will be organised by an online form, streamed Zoom webinars and Youtube. While a virtual conference can not provide the experience of a traditional event, we are aiming to organise a conference rich in both professional experiences and networking opportunities.

The conference will feature plenary sessions with keynote speakers and break out sessions in parallel session. Participants will be able to present and discuss their research results and upload their materials to the conference platform. This may enable participants to access presentations in a more flexible manner during the conference.

As a result of the online format, we are able to offer you a one day ticket, Visitor, if you are interested to join for only one day. Visitors may participate in the live discussions and benefit from the platform of the virtual conference, but cannot present a paper or a poster at the conference.

One day ticket fee: €70
